Have you ever wanted to be a fashion designer, but you couldn't draw. This is a story about a teenage girl named Justice Hoover. I am 13 years old. I've been through a lot during my childhood. I am happy when I dance, I'm proud in my work, and I'm sad. These characteristics explain who I am.

This is the story about Justice Hoover. I was born in Tennessee. My mother is Darryln Hoover. My birthday is March 9 1997. I am very happy when I dance because I feel the music and what the music is talking about. The dancing I do is hip hop, tap, jazz, and ballet, and praise dance. My favorite dance is hip hop and praise dance. I love hip hop because it's fun, and you could add your own steps. I also love praise dance because I am very passionate about dancing. I show it in my face, and I feel it in my body. In tap you really don't need music. It's acappella you really don't feel the music in what you are doing. I also have a sister named Tiara. My sister and I usually don't get along but I will always love her. In my family I have 2 uncles, 2 aunts, 1 grandmother, 1 godmother, and 9 cousins.

I'm proud in my work because I try. When I try I know I'm trying to do my best because I feel proud. When I don't try I get mad because I know I'm not doing my best. My mom and teachers tell me to do my best, and I try to do good in my work, one of my tests I got a 100 and I felt happy because I tried and I did my best.

My mom was so proud of me. My sister was jealous because she didn't think I could do a good job, but I can. All I have to do is study hard.

I am sad about a lot of things in life. I'm sad because some of my friends betray me. I'm sad because my grandmother had a stroke but there's nothing I can do but help her. I'm sad because the poor people don't have a place to live, nothing to eat, and nothing to bath in. I'm sad because people die almost every day and it's sad to see and hear about. I'm sad because my family fights all the time and it's scary to see my sister crying about whatever my family is talking about.

Being sad, being happy when I dance and being proud in my work are all examples of me. In the future I see myself designing clothes, I will open up my own store even though I can't draw. Designing clothes is my passion, and I won't stop till I get what I need.
